Make THE HERALD Your Twice-a-Week Reading Habit! — Every Thursday and Sunday!

it's surprising

How the Torrance HERALD can provide so much news for and about us ladies!

1st

IN Announcing our arrival; First to tell about our birthday parties; First to recount our school day activities. Then our engagement, and our big moment . . . the wedding day. The highlights of our entire lifetime are recorded in the TORRANCE HERALD.
